Hello everyone & happy July! As we transition into summer we have a lot of new things in the department—a new chair, new students, new BSA members, new COVID guidelines, and a new newsletter. As always, feedback is welcome and appreciated if you would like to fill out our anonymous Google Form.

May you have a great month!

Lindsey and Karley

Student of the Month

What are you proud of this month?
Who's lab are you in?
What's your favorite thing about being in your department?
Do you have a course coming up this semester that you are looking forward to?

You all have aspects of science that we find... less than ideal... but are you in good company?

Would you rather...

Places to go:
The Discovery Lecture Series will feature "The Science of Food" by Prof. Brian Wansink (Food Science) on July 13th. If you sign up via the link, you will receive more information, along with a full schedule of events here.

Things to do:
Berea Pickin’—Head over to the Berea Berry Farm in Castalian Springs where you can pick blueberries and blackberries. The farm market is bustling with fresh produce, and most of the farmers markets around town. Keep in mind that they are cash or check only if you decide to make a purchase!

People to see: George Lopez—It’s him bringing his stand-up comedy show to Zanies, July 6th-8th. It looks like tickets are still available for those of you interested.

Mental Wellness:
The Vanderbilt Farmer’s market is every Thursday from 1:30 to 5pm in the courtyard area in front of Aux Bon Pain. I know we all have been looking forward to this so much and I hope you can join us on July 1st.
