Would you like to volunteer with the BRET Office of Career Development? We need your writing skills as well as your time during the Career Symposium and Reunion. Let us know how you want to help!

Today is the last day to apply for the AAAS-CASE Workshop in Washington DC.

The Writing Studio will host a 3MT Workshop that will analyze winning 3MT presentations to learn how narrative and argumentative structure can turn your dissertation or thesis research into a concise and compelling presentation.

The CDC’s Laboratory Leadership Service (LLS) fellowship program prepares early-career laboratory scientists to become future public health laboratory leaders.

The Vanderbilt Institute for Digital Learning (VIDL) invites applications for graduate student fellowships for the 2016-2017 academic year. Stipends will be $5,500 per academic year, intended to reflect a roughly 5-hour commitment weekly.

Join Dr. Uma Sivaprasad, PhD, Assistant Professor and Scientist Recruiter in Human Resources at the Cincinnati Children’s Hospital Medical Center as she discusses postdoctoral opportunities...
A new funding opportunity is available through the NIH Neuroscience Blueprint for diverse neuroscience graduate students.

The Lasker Foundation has launched its 2017 Essay Contest, a challenge engaging young scientists and clinicians in a discussion about the big questions in biology and medicine today, and the role of biomedical research in our society.

Aspiring Vanderbilt entrepreneurs who have a viable early stage idea are encouraged to attend the Wond'ry PostFlight program.

Clubes de Ciencias Peru (CdeCPeru) is looking for talented young scientists to lead STEM workshops in Peru and mentor high school and college students. This summer (July 21st - 27th), the workshops will take place in Lima city.
