ANNOUNCEMENTS

On Wednesday, the Women in the Academy series will conduct the panel, Creativity in the Shadows: Working Beyond the Tenure Track, featuring BRET's Director of Career Development Kim Petrie along with Derek Bruff, Elizabeth Meadows, and Langston Wilkins.

The Angelman Biomarkers/Outcomes Measures Alliance (A-BOM) is seeking volunteer writing support for their organization. Barbara O'Brien
(current Neuroscience grad student) is working with Dr. Terry Jo Bichell (VU grad school alum, Bowman Lab, Neuroscience) on building the A-BOM Alliance Reports page. The reports are intended to be a way for the general public to learn about biomarkers and outcome measures in Angelman research through summaries of published scientific articles.

Intern with Nashville Public Radio! In their reporting internship at WPLN, you will get hands-on, intensive experience producing stories for an award-winning newsroom. Deadline is April 15.

The Whole Scientist, a course to develop career skills such as networking, mentorships, project management and much more, will take place in New York and Maine.

Johns Hopkins University, a CIRTL member, is hosting a three-day (June-6-8), in-person teaching institute for graduate students and postdocs to learn about and develop their own evidence-based STEM teaching skills; deadline in May 22.

Versatile PhD will host a free AMA-style panel discussion on PhD Careers in Think Tanks on April 3-7.

“Creativity in the Shadows: Working Beyond the Tenure Track” offers PhD students a chance to reflect on the ways gender affects their experience as they begin their professional journey in the academy.

Science Careers 2017 Career Handbook is available for download to provide information about the latest career opportunities in many different fields as well as provide great tips and advice on the job search process.

We need volunteers! Would you like to volunteer with the BRET Office of Career Development? We need your writing skills as well as your time during the BRET Career Symposium and Reunion. Let us know how you want to help!

INTERNSHIP CORNER

The ASPIRE Program along with the Office of Career Development is excited to offer ASPIRE Internships. If interested in any of these opportunities, please email Ashley Brady to set up a brief meeting to discuss your interest.
