

Friday, April 27, 2018

MSRC 20th Anniversary Celebration Symposium – Godchaux Nursing School Annex

9:00 am to 9:10 am	Introduction Richard M. Caprioli, Vanderbilt University	NS 161
9:10 am to 9:15 am	Welcome Larry J. Marnett, Dean of Basic Sciences Vanderbilt University	NS 161
9:15 am to 9:55 am	Presentation: The Impact of the MSRC on Vanderbilt and Beyond Kevin L. Schey, Vanderbilt University	NS 161
9:55 am to 10:35 am	Presentation: Mass Spectrometry as the Discovery Engine for Exploring Protein Modification by Lipid Electrophiles Larry J. Marnett, Vanderbilt University	NS 161
10:35 am to 10:50 am	Break	NS Annex
10:50 – 11:30 am	Presentation: Native MS in Structural Biology: Surface Collisions of Protein Complexes Vicki H. Wysocki, Ohio State University, OH	NS 161
11:30 am to 12:10 pm	Presentation: Clinical Tissue Imaging by Mass Spectrometry: The Future is Now John D. Pfeifer, Washington University School of Medicine in St. Louis, MO	NS 161
12:10 am to 12:50 pm	Presentation: Mass Spectrometry: Moving Beyond “Hyphenation” to Enable Innovation in the Development of New Medicines Stephen Castellino, GlaxoSmithKline, PA	NS 161
12:50 pm to 1:00 pm	Close Richard M. Caprioli, Vanderbilt University	NS 161
1:00pm	Reception – OPEN HOUSE and tours of MSRC	MRB III 9th floor