The “Becoming a Physician: Ethical Challenges in Medical Education” conference is the only medical ethics conference to focus on the ethical challenges medical students encounter on the path to becoming physicians. It is intended to be a forum for medical students to present their reflections on these challenges.

The organizing committee invites abstracts for oral presentations on the ethical issues that arise in and because of one’s role as a medical student. Potential topics include, but are not limited to: disparity in allocation of educational resources in medical school; learning on/with patients; role of medical students in public health outreach; moral distress; hierarchy in medicine.

Eligibility

To submit an abstract the author must be enrolled in an accredited medical college. Abstracts co-authored with faculty or residents will not be considered.

The organizing committee will award the best abstract a monetary prize in the amount of $200.
